

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

Doing away with the Cable cap is an open invitation to see the continuing decline of healthy competition that favors the consumer, who is after all the actual owner of the airwaves. Please get it right.
